

1. EL MORYA

Sacred power is the energy, capacity, intelligence and strength to accomplish the soul's destiny and manifest higher divine will. The First Ray of Power is divine consciousness straight from the centre of the universe, which manifests this sacred power. It is fierce love and higher spiritual authority, which is always flowing to express and protect the divine plan for all life. There can be a destructive element to this energy, which can be used in a healthy way to eliminate outmoded structures and empower the soul with a fresh start. The First Ray also carries the frequency of leadership, assisting you to stand in the truth of your light so that you can take responsibility for your life journey, and others can find their way in their own lives more readily, supported by your light. It helps to build strong willpower to accomplish any task you choose. The Ascended Master El Morya brings you his particular blessings, and encourages you to believe in your own strength and take the initiative on any matter that has deep meaning for you.

You are working with the First Ray of Power at this time. This means that a particular spiritual energy is available to you for divine purpose. You may not understand the reason for this energy coming to you now, but you will in time. It is serving your soul growth and will help you find the courage, willpower and strength to succeed in a matter that is of importance to you. Stay humble and aligned with your heart, and the sacred power will flow with integrity and grace for the greater good.

The First Ray of Power is a very strong energy and, unless you are naturally an abrupt or 'painfully honest' sort of personality, the directness of it may not always feel comfortable. There is an incredible gift in this energy. The truth that it brings to the surface disempowers anything that could cause confusion. If you are uncertain which path to take—whether to continue a certain relationship, course of action or lifestyle choice—the presence of the First Ray of Power will clarify matters for you. Once it moves through our lives, whatever is holding us back from the next steps on our authentic soul journey will be removed — either through a clear decision that we make or through circumstances that 'force our hand' and get us moving in the right direction.

When the First Ray of Power is indicated, long-term plans may suddenly change as you refine your course toward a more authentic, soul-honouring goal. Or, you may suddenly get the motivating boost you need to really go for something that you have been dreaming of for a long time. Once this ray makes its effect felt in your life, your understanding of what is helpful and what is not can change radically and swiftly. The changes will feel natural and 'meant to be', even if they were initially surprising.

When this ray comes to you, the people, dreams and opportunities that remain in your life afterward are significant. They have survived the 'onslaught' of increased spiritual potency and remain stable, true and present in your life. Which means, yes, they are meant to be part of your journey at this time. You have confirmation from the Universe.

The First Ray of Power also relates to matters of leadership, authority and politics. Be open to how your spiritual journey might be helpful in the world of politics, whether that be through aligning yourself with a cause that resonates deeply in your heart, or bringing a more open, tolerant and discerning viewpoint into the world of politics — which can otherwise too easily be filled with deception, manipulation and power games. Speaking your truth may be helpful at this time, not only for you but for those around you who are willing to hear your voice and then make their own choices from a clearer place within. Take care that you do not allow your spiritual path to become compromised. You can bring spiritual wisdom into political life, but you must not bring political life into spirituality. Your spirituality can only retain its purity, effectiveness and grace if it is open and universally inclusive as an expression of divine love. You will know when your spirituality is safeguarded because you will respect other human beings regardless of whether they share your political views.

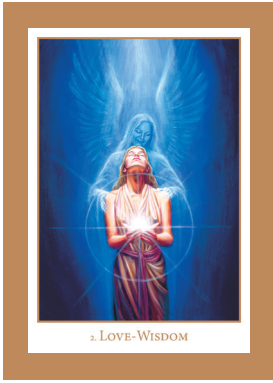

If your life purpose involves driving a meaningful political cause forward, and/or assuming a position of some type of leadership (whether spiritual or otherwise), you'll feel the truth of this and be given encouragement from the Ascended Master El Morya to move forward on your path, with divine protection and assistance in ways that honour love and truly serve the evolution of humanity for the greater good.

When this ray makes its way into your life, it is time to accept the loving gauntlet being thrown down by the Universe and to assume complete responsibility for your life, whilst surrendering all matters to a higher power. Withdraw attachment and become curious. The Universe is going to show you exactly what you need and what is right for you, and remove what is not. You don't have to be tentative about accepting this. If something is removed, it will be so that a more beautiful, truthful and satisfying version of what you are surrendering can come to life in your world. Remember that the Universe loves you and wants only the best and most beautiful life experience for you. Trust it enough to let that happen now.

INVOCATION

I now accept, of my own free will, the blessing and grace of the First Ray of Power in my life. Through unconditional love and divine mercy, I surrender my life into the loving hands of the Universe to align me with higher will and the most beautiful expression of my life journey. I call upon the loving assistance of the genuine Ascended Master El Morya in all aspects of this process, and ask that the First Ray of Power be expressed in ways that serve the greatest good on this planet, that all beings may walk their true, divine path. May love manifest completely within me and through me, according to divine will, mercy and timing. So be it.

2. LOVE-WISDOM

The Second Ray of Wisdom is a consciousness of loving wisdom straight from the heart of the Universe. Love is all things. It is boldness, action, gentleness and peace. Remember this as you build your lighthouse, the space inside you where your inner radiance can burn with divine passion, piercing through any darkness and offering hope and direction to many who are lost. This is your soul. This is your heart. It brings the opportunity to heal, restore and understand through the power of love and the light of ancient wisdom. The spiritual master known as the Buddha is with you now (no matter what your religious or spiritual traditions may be) with unconditional love, to help you fully receive and integrate the blessing of this ray of light from the Universe. Beings of divine love are supporting you to learn spiritually, and share your learning with others, in ways that heal and nourish the soul.

You are receiving a blessing of the Second Ray of Wisdom. What this means is that a particular spiritual energy is available to you for divine purpose. You may not understand the reason for this energy coming to you now, but you will in time. It is serving your soul growth and will help you easily and naturally attract all the love, support and understanding that you need to succeed in a matter that is of importance to you.

The Second Ray of Wisdom is a loving energy that feels very familiar to those with an open heart. It is the energy of the open and loving heart of the Universe! The Second Ray of Wisdom is inclusive, magnetic and attractive. It draws all things toward it with an invisible magnetism of love. It is gifted to you at this time to help attract the people, opportunities and teachings that will help you succeed in your life mission.

This ray will help you focus your consciousness in your heart. It will be helpful for you. It will bring to consciousness any unresolved matters of the heart for healing. This includes any issues around trusting your heart to lead you and listening to (and honouring) its guidance. It will also help you truly heal in an affirming and nurturing way. The gentle grace of the Universal Heart will touch your own loving heart, blessing you with feelings of love that nurture your soul and encourage you to enjoy your life journey on Earth.

The challenge with this ray, given that it is so magnetic, is learning to discern and to say 'no' when you need to. You could imagine it like a fisherman who casts a very wide net and catches most of the ocean! Not everything is useful or even desired by the fisherman. Some things are best left alone, returned to the ocean where they belong, and some things are gratefully accepted by the fisherman for his life journey.

The Second Ray energy is naturally inclusive, and this inclusiveness is best balanced with healthy boundaries. Being able to trust in what is coming is important. This means that you will not hold on to every opportunity, person or situation out of fear of loss or lack. You will realise that as you work with the energy of the Second Ray, you are being taught true abundance and flow. You will need to feel comfortable letting go and receiving, to trust that the Universe has all that you want and need in unlimited supply. The Universe will truly provide for you, dear child of light.

This is a very different way of thinking and being to how most humans are conditioned from an early age, but it's never too late to change one's mind and open one's heart to a more loving, abundant and enjoyable way to live. Healthy boundaries will enable you to take the time to decide for yourself what works for you and feels most aligned with your heart, and what is a better opportunity for someone else.

When the Buddha comes into your world, he is bringing the gift of wisdom, and that includes openness to all that is without judgement. This might be the struggle that will eventually be revealed as a blessing in disguise. It might be the challenge that causes you to grow into readiness for the next journey on your divine life mission.

As the Second Ray of Wisdom relates particularly to the role of the teacher and education, you are encouraged to trust that you have a message to share that is helpful for others. Whether your involvement in education and teaching is literal or more subtle, you are encouraged to honour the energy of the teacher in a respectful way in your life, particularly at this time. In some way, your soul purpose likely involves helping others learn through wisdom and love.

INVOCATION

I now accept, of my own free will, the blessing and grace of the Second Ray of Love-Wisdom in my life. Through unconditional love and divine mercy, I open my heart with joy to the magnetic and creative field of attraction. I gratefully open up to abundance in all ways with trust, wisdom and serenity. The Universe provides all that I want and need with grace, love and perfect timing. Thank you, Universe! I call on the loving assistance of the genuine Ascended Master known as the Buddha in all aspects of this process, so that all beings can receive the loving benefit of this spiritual gift, according to divine compassion. Through divine grace, so be it.
